Briefing of the Authority:

During the April 17, 2025, meeting of the Chesterfield Economic Development Authority, Authority members approved a proposal prepared by Virginia Tech to conduct a study providing insight into how Chesterfield Economic Development can strengthen its economic development strategies and better align with national trends. Sarah Lyon-Hill, Ph.D., and John Provo, Ph.D., employees of the Center for Economic and Community Engagement at VA Tech, attended the meeting to discuss the draft study's outcomes. Key findings included that Chesterfield Economic Development is achieving similar outcomes with peer counties with fewer resources, highlighting the efficiency of its team.

Approval of the Minutes:

Terri Cofer Beirne requested that the Authority approve the minutes of the March 19, 2026, meeting. Robert Vaughn motioned to approve the meeting minutes as written. John Cogbill seconded, and all members present voted in the affirmative.

signed by a grocer, with construction expected to start in late Fall, and that grading has already started on the Resident Inn project. Mike requested approval for a change order with Whiting Turner's contract to coordinate the infrastructure work, valued at $227,117.

Robert Vaughn motioned to approve the $227,117 change order to relocate the light poles and low-voltage wiring. John Cogbill seconded, and all members present voted in the affirmative.

Meadowville Technology Park Update:

Jake Elder reported that staff will be working to schedule a tour of Meadowville Technology Park for Authority members in the near future. There was no change to report on the progress of the work at Meadowville.

Upper Magnolia Green Update:

Tim Davey reported that Upper Magnolia activity remains consistent with recent reports and that ongoing progress is being made across the various projects underway. Improved weather conditions have allowed construction activities to advance, particularly on the road projects associated with an active grant. There were no action items this month and no significant updates to report.

Jake reported that a community meeting is scheduled for May 14 at the request of Mr. Carroll to provide updates on the various infrastructure projects currently underway. The meeting is intended to serve as a general community update on ongoing activities, and representatives from the involved organizations are expected to attend. School construction projects remain on schedule, with the elementary school anticipated to open in August 2026 and the high school in August 2027.

Other Updates:

John O'Neill reported that the Authority has periodically participated in multifamily housing projects by serving as a conduit issuer for debt, with at least one such transaction completed within the past two years. He said that discussions are underway with a multifamily developer interested in utilizing the EDA in a similar capacity.

It was explained that, if the Authority is willing to move forward, the developer would submit an application and appear before the Authority during the May meeting to request an inducement resolution and conduct the required public hearing. Following Authority action, the request would proceed to the Board of Supervisors for final approval. The developer has communicated with the district supervisor, who has indicated support for the project, and no concerns are anticipated at that level.

Brendan Staley reported that the proposed project involves the acquisition and rehabilitation of 192 multifamily units located at South Point Landing in North Chesterfield. The developer plans to invest more than $16 million in improvements as part of the rehabilitation effort.

He explained that the developer is seeking to present the project to the Authority in May, to obtain Board of Supervisors' approval at its June meeting. This timeline aligns with the developer's intent to secure an allocation of private activity bonds from the State, as additional allocation becomes available mid-year. Following Board approval, the developer would return to the Authority for final authorization of the financing, including bond issuance and approval of related documentation.
